The creation of a new system of chise in order to meet a situation in which the major part of the enfranon attempt to improve transportation facilities.

The question of transportation is of great economic importance, as the present shortage of provisions and the inflated prices are not symptomatic of any real economic difficulties, but are simply evidence of inability to trans clusive use of the railroads for miliary purposes.

The cardinal aim of the duma will awever, be a supreme effort to es mblish greater harmony between itself nd the government.
